Janelle Nadeau Ensemble: A Prairie Christmas is a captivating concert of music that honours the season's traditions and celebrates family. Familiar hymns such as, What Child is This and Angels We Have Heard On High will ring out as Janelle's Ensemble carries the audience through the evening.

'We want the audience to sit back and enjoy the enchanting journey of our music. We will share our Christmas memories and create new ones for friends and families attending,' explains Nadeau.

In an intimate atmosphere, audience members will enjoy the sounds of Nadeau on pedal harp and vocals – along with her friends from acclaimed group Winter Harp, world renowned Kim Robertson on Celtic Harp/vocals and Joaquin Ayala with a special collection of rare instruments dating back to the 9th century.
